Sought after HISP Certification Achieved by BSI

Reston, VA – HISP (Holistic Information Security Practitioner) certification has been achieved by the Product Champions of BSI Management Systems, North America's leading management systems registrar. HISP training teaches the integration of ISO/IEC 27001:2005 with COBIT, COSO, ITIL and multiple regulations pertaining to Information Security & Privacy. BSI provides certification to ISO 27001, which helps organizations manage and secure sensitive company information.

The HISP Training & Certification program is managed by the HISP Institution and was created to address the current shortage of skilled Information Security and Compliance professionals.

Taiye Lambo of eFortresses and the HISP Institution extended his congratulations, "On behalf of the HISP Institution, I congratulate the BSI Product Champions on a job well done...This is a visionary move by BSI and shows their commitment to the industry and their people."

"Clients deserve guidance from true professionals in the field, not just a "Sales Person" looking for a new business," stated John DiMaria, BSI's Product Manager for Business Continuity. "An integrated approach is the only way to realize a true ROI. Only trained certified professionals can effectively point organizations in the right direction."

"This is another example of our commitment to continue to invest in our people and processes in order to increase the value we bring to our clients," said Gary Pearsons, President of BSI Management Systems. "This effectively raises the bar for excellence for offerings in the area of information security solutions such as ISO 27001 and ISO 20000."
